

Kentucky People

Fletcher and his wife, Glenna, with Education Secretary Virginia Fox and her husband, Vic.

Above: Ann Cowgill with her dad, State Budget Director Brad Cowgill.

LEXINGTON

Gov. Ernie Fletcher's Birthday Party

Below: Gov. Ernie Fletcher with Richard Anderson, managing partner of the law firm Greenebaum Doll & McDonald.

HENRY Clay High School senior Ann Cowgill's fund raising project for God's Pantry raised $50,000 for hungry families. Her birthday party to celebrate Gov. Fletcher's birthday attracted a sold-out crowd of over 550 and a wide range of corporate sponsors. Cowgill is the daughter of Margaret and Brad Cowgill, the state budget director.

Left: Commerce Secretary Jim Host makes a toast to the governor.

LOUISVILLE

UofL Cardiovascular Innovation Institute Groundbreaking

LOUISVILLE

Voices of Leadership

University of Louisville

From left to right: James R. Ramsey, U of L president; Junior Bridgeman, chair, U of L Board of Trustees; Allyson Handley, secretary, Kentucky Executive Cabinet; U.S. Sen. Mitch McConnell; Laman Gray, medical director, Cardiovascular Innovation Institute; Henry C. Wagner, president, Jewish Hospital Healthcare Services; and Julian Shapero, chair, JHHS Board of Trustees.

Leadership Louisville

Participants in the inaugural program of the "Voices of Leadership" radio series – launched November 8 with Public Radio Partnership in Louisville – pose at The Kentucky Center. Top row: Curt Tofteland, Gerry Weston, Joan Riehm, Ed Glasscock, Jonathan Blue. Bottom row: Kenny Boyd, Christine Johnson (president of the Leadership Louisville Center), Larry Hujo and Laura Douglas.