

Kentucky People

LOUISVILLE

Consumers Choice Coffee Facility Grand Opening

Mayor Jerry Abramson, Greater Louisville, Inc. President Steve Higdon, Consumers Choice Coffee (CCC) President Bob Patterson, and George Burgess of the Kentucky Economic Development Cabinet made a cafe' latte toast to celebrate the grand opening of CCC's new $1.25 million, 17,000-square-foot office warehouse facility.

LOUISVILLE

Greater Louisville Inc. Top Investors Breakfast

Greater Louisville Inc. welcomed Yang Jiechi (third from right), China's ambassador to the United States, for a special breakfast with GLI's Top Investors on July 12. Business leaders who attended the breakfast included (from left) Sean Martin, Brown-Forman Corp.; Jim Welch, Brown-Forman Corp.; Ted Nixon, D.D. Williamson & Co. Inc.; Former Gov. Martha Layne Collins; and Julia Harpe, Borden Chemical Inc.

LOUISVILLE

Shuckman's Fish Company Expansion

Above: Three generations work for Shuckman's. From left to right: Vicki Shuckman, Lauren Shuckman-Belanger, Beverly Shuckman and Lewis Shuckman.

Right: Shuckman's Fish Company President Lewis Shuckman shows GLI President Steve Higdon his firm's new smoker and packaging equipment that were recently purchased to expand his business operations. Issa Shuckman founded Shuckman's in 1919. The company specializes in high-quality, smoked fish products and Kentucky spoonfish caviar.

LEXINGTON

Happy Chandler Foundation Fundraiser

John Hall, former CEO of Ashland, Inc. and WKTY-TV's Rob Bromley posed at a Happy Chandler Foundation fundraiser on July 24 at the Lexington Center's Heritage Hall. The foundation provides scholarships to Kentucky students who attend college in the state.